

Workshop on Personality Development

A workshop on journey of self discovery was organized by the Placement Cell, Department of Evening Studies-Multi-Disciplinary Research Centre (DES-MDRC) on 14 and 15 November, 2019 at the Department Auditorium. The workshop aimed at personality development and self actualisation.

The key speaker of the workshop was Atul Khanijo, an alumunus of the Department of Evening Studies-Multi-Disciplinary Research Centre who is a professional with over a decade of experience in the field of business strategy planning, new product launches, market development and is presently working with a top MNC. While interacting with the audience, he emphasised on the need of self actualisation talk and introspection. He stressed on the importance of expressing one's thought fearlessly regardless of the environment in which one lives. He related the talk with a variety of interactive activities which were aimed at making the students realize the true value of being that independent and self-reliant. He opined that one's focus should remain on the goal that one wants to achieve in life.

Earlier, Professor Neeraj Sharma, Incharge of the Placement Cell apprised the students about various career opportunities and options available to them in their chosen fields.
